CONCORD MUSIC

MAKING THE DIFFERENCE

Concord Music acquired Iagem, the “world’s largest independent music publishers” in 2017. Following further acquisitions, there was a need to expand and provide additional space for the businesses in the London offices.

Avant Contracts had already been involved in the original office move from Regent Street to Aldwych House following previous expansions of the group. With the new owners of the business looking to integrate all brands and provide visiting clients with a stylish, eye-catching environment, Avant Contracts were engaged to design and implement a relevant yet modern furnishing solution.

Working alongside Project Manager Terry Darby, Avant creatively planned space and installed a coordinated furniture package including:

- Reception Seating
- Break out pod
- Meeting room
- Collaborative workspace

With commissioned artwork in the reception, Concord Music have an impressive front of house image reflective of their leadership position within the music industry.

“ Avant’s installation was both efficient and well planned completing all works within the scheduled timescale ”

CONTRACT FURNISHINGS

Since 1990, Avant Contract Furnishings has been meeting the needs of tomorrow's workforce. Our clients are left with an "above and beyond" feeling of satisfaction as we transform their office into an agile work space that their customers can't help but love.

We believe that purchasing furniture is an emotional decision - even for the office. Time, care and consideration are taken at every step to ensure the right lines, colours, contrasts and look are obtained that reflect a client's personality and requirements.

The long term business relationships we have built with our clients is a reflection, we believe, of our commitment to the highest standards and a proven track record of consistent delivery. Nothing is too much trouble.
